Government: Heads, I Win; Tails, You Lose'

When the federal government set up the Social Security System nearly 40 years ago it told Americans the maximum tax schedule would be 9 per cent—a 4½ per cent deduction from employee pay checks matched by a 4½ per cent contribution from the employer.

As late as 1960 Social Security was reasonable enough. The maximum annual wage levied against was $3,000, with a 1.5 tax against both employee and employer.

In 1960 the base taxable wage was raised to $4,800, and the tax increased to 3 per cent.

Under the latest federal law, effective in 1974, just a year away, the tax base will be increased to $12,000, and the tax rate hiked to 5.5 per cent on both employee and employer. That will be a total tax on wages and the wage-paying employer of 11 per cent—showing how worthless is the solemn pledge of government to hold the tax ceiling at 9 per cent.

And there is still more bad news.

In 1975 and thereafter Social Security benefits will be geared to the cost of living—which means, as you have already guessed, that the tax rate will be galloping sky high.

All this is accounted for by inflation—the rising cost of living. And who is the culprit? The government, with its spendthrift policies and its adulteration of the currency with printing press dollars. The more dollars in circulation the higher consumer prices zoom. It's that simple.

How can the private citizen help himself? By simply voting against re-election of any federal lawmaker who supports big spending appropriations except those which assure permanent improvements for the nation. Highways and inland navigation projects are examples.

It almost seems that the government encourages inflation so it has an excuse to increase the Social Security Fund, from which it borrows billions to cover the losses of a deficit-ridden regime, whether the name be Republican or Democrat.

It's the tin-horn gambler's cry: Government to citizen—'Heads, I win; tails, you lose.'

Harry Truman still critical

By JIM BAGBY
Associated Press Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman spent a restless night at Research Hospital and Medical Center, where he remains in critical condition due to lung congestion and a weakened heart.

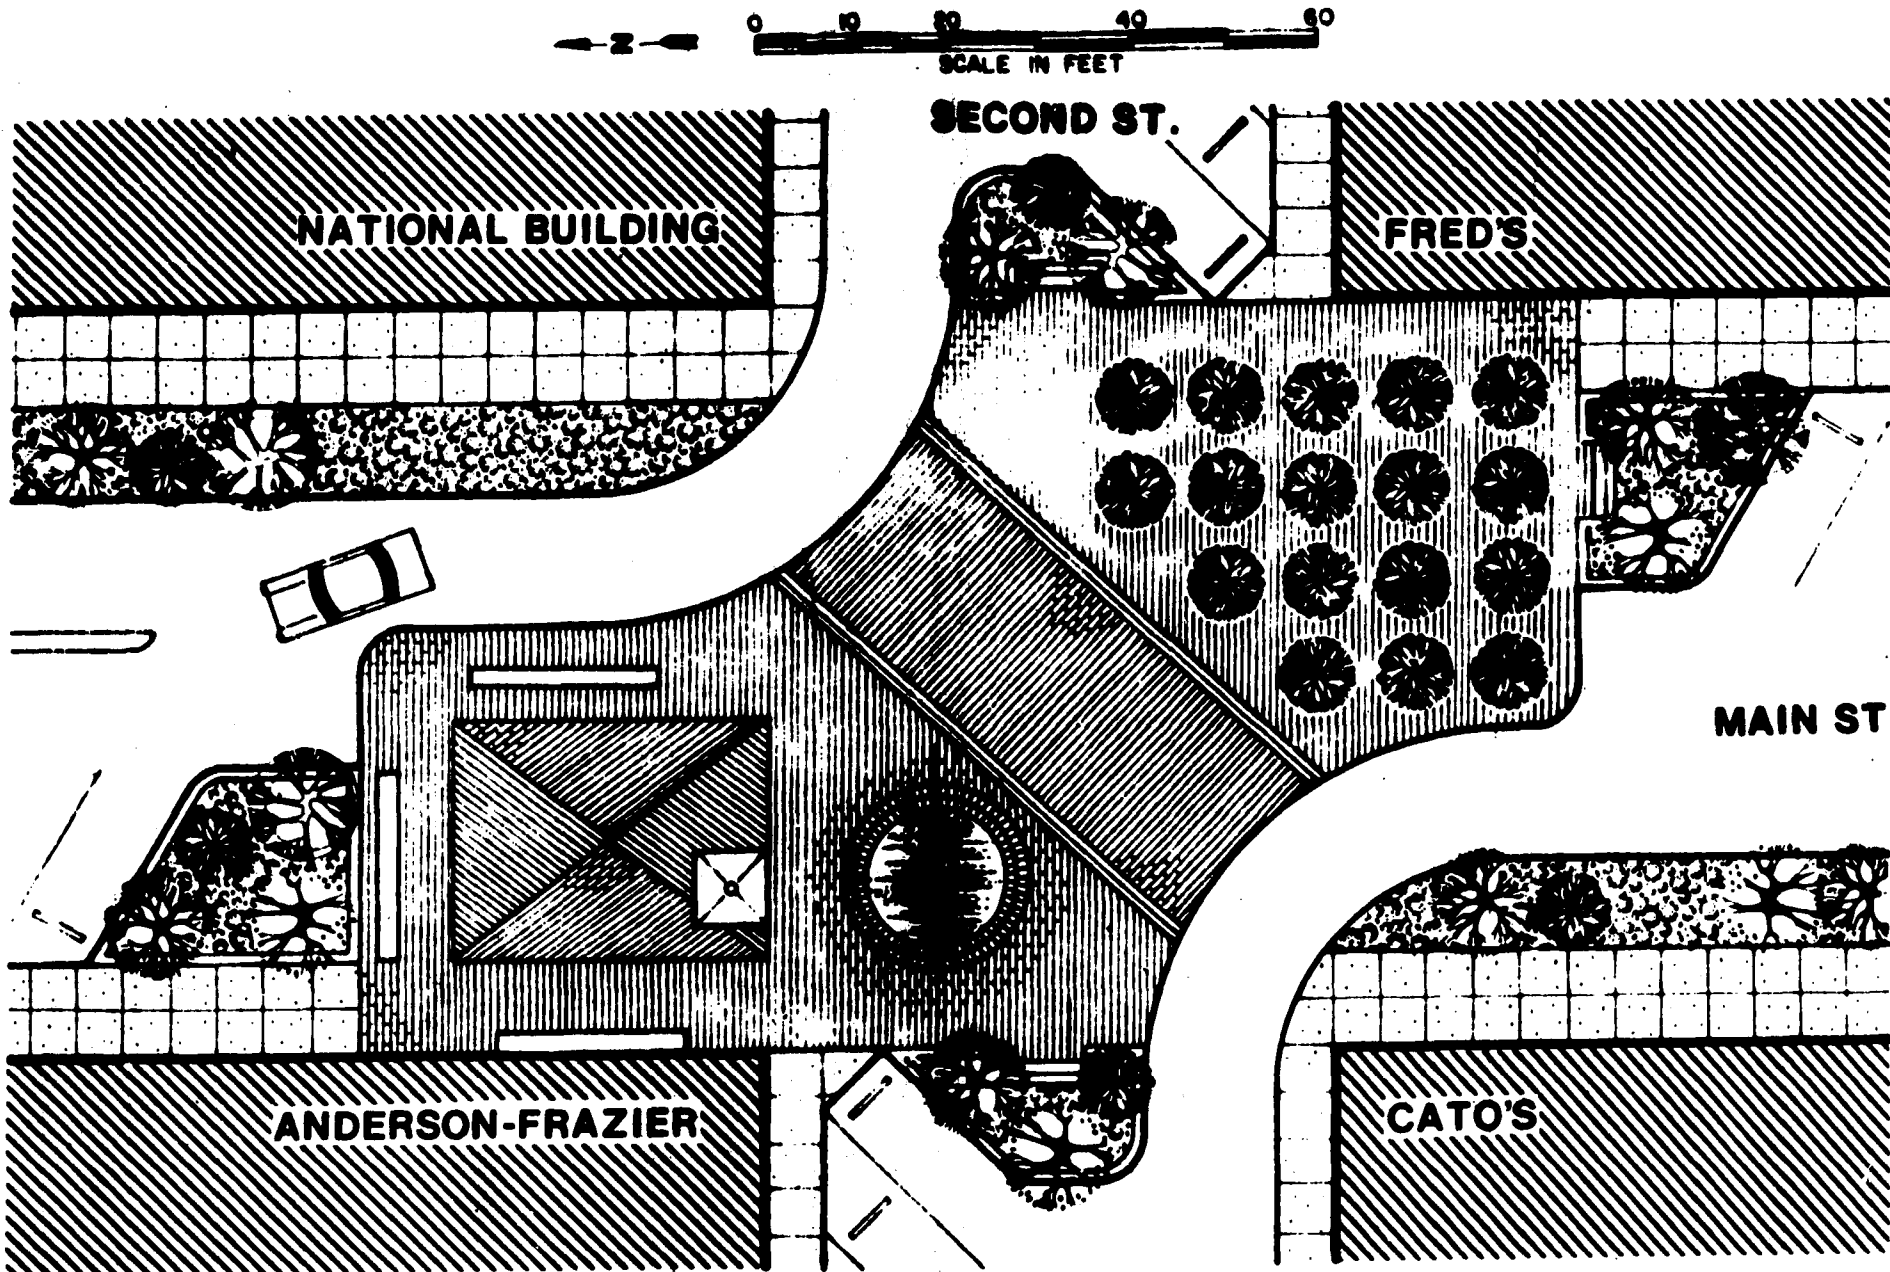

John Drees, public relations director for the hospital, said in a 7 a.m. EST report that Truman's "pulses and blood pressure remained stable. However, his temperature continued to fluctuate and was 100.3 degrees."

Asked if the word "improving" had been taken out of the report for a reason, Drees said, "It was unintentional and signified nothing."

Thursday, after a visit with her father, Margaret Truman Daniel described the difference between her father on Wednesday and on Thursday as "the difference between night and day."

However, doctors continue to list Truman's condition as critical and declined to speculate if, or when, he might be taken off the critical list.

Truman, who lives in nearby Independence, Mo., was hospitalized Tuesday night with lung congestion. Since then, doctors also have expressed concern about a weakened heart.

Proposed plaza in downtown Hope

Above is an artist's concept of the proposed plaza which will connect the northwest and southeast corners of Main St. (Anderson-Frazier Insurance to Fred's Discount) at the completion of Hope's Urban Renewal project sometime in early 1974. The plaza will feature trees, a fountain, a kiosk (small information booth) and will enable pedestrian traffic to cross Main without encountering vehicular traffic. One-way traffic will be in effect on both Main and Second.

Apollo passes midway point in moon voyage

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 17, a bit off course but operating smoothly, passed the midway point of its voyage to the moon today.

A rocket firing later in the day is scheduled to adjust the course and put the spacecraft on target for lunar orbit.

Astronaut's Eugene A. Cernan, Ronald E. Evans and Dr. Harrison H. Schmitt still were sleeping as they passed the midway point of 123,000 miles from both earth and moon at 6:36 a.m. EST.

The spacecraft's gradually declining speed was 3,003 miles an hour.

Apollo 17's command ship, America, and lunar module, Challenger, still linked nose-to-nose, were streaking on a collision course with the moon.

But ground controllers said a small rocket thrust of about one second would change the flight path enough to bring the spacecraft into the proper position on Sunday to settle it into lunar orbit.

Mission Control said the off-course flight path was caused by an excess of rocket thrust Thursday morning when Apollo 17 was fired out of earth orbit and started its 86-hour coast to the moon.

The astronauts spent a quiet day in space Thursday and Schmitt reported that all three took sleeping pills before retiring in hopes of getting a solid eight hours of sleep.

Just before the rest period started, at 1:30 a.m. EST, Mission Control reported Apollo 17 had just passed a point 100,000 miles from earth.

"One hundred thousand miles," mused Schmitt. "My goodness, gracious. That's impressive."

Schmitt, who said he's "strictly a novice" at meteorology, spent much of his first day in space describing the changing weather patterns over the continents and oceans of earth, which he called "a little bit of blue in space."

Looking at Houston, Schmitt accurately described the cold, rainy day experienced by the city.

"I don't know what your weather is like down there, but from here it looks like you might be overcast," he said. "Might even have a good storm going."

"Right," said a ground controller. "You're a regular weather satellite."

Schmitt did most of the talking from space Thursday giving volumes of description of the things he was seeing. But Cernan, the silver-haired Apollo 17 commander and two-time space veteran, added a little music.

"Dum-de-dum, dum, doo, de, dum," Cernan sang softly at one point.

Mission Control officials said they were delighted with how well America and Challenger, spacecraft which Cernan called "superbirds," were operating.

"The spacecraft is performing in a super fashion," said flight controller Jerry Griffin at a news conference. "I think we're in good shape."

Is compromise out of reach for Demos?

JEAN WESTWOOD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Effective compromise appeared out of reach today as the Democratic National Committee prepared for a post-election showdown over future control of the party organization.

Chairman Jean Westwood, who has become the symbolic champion of the McGovern reform wing, reaffirmed Thursday night she won't step down unless a compromise can be found. And Texas Robert Strauss, who has the backing of a conservative-moderate coalition, said he has the votes to topple Mrs. Westwood and is in the fight to stay.

The decision on the party chairmanship comes Saturday when the full national committee holds its first meeting since Sen. George McGovern's landslide loss in the Nov. 7 presidential election.

Waiting in the wings should a compromise candidate be sought are Laurence F. O'Brien, who has held the chairmanship on two previous occasions, California state party Chairman Charles Manatt and Maine Democratic Committeeman George Mitchell.

The executive committee today was scheduled to complete a list of 25 nominees for new at-large seats on the national committee. Credentials and resolutions committees also planned preliminary meetings.

The Westwood camp wants the 25 new members named before going on to a contest over her job. Strauss wants the chairmanship out of the way first because adding new members would increase the number of votes needed for election from 105, the present majority.

The executive committee adopted an agenda Thursday night which puts the new members' election before any opportunity to challenge the chairmanship. The Strauss forces said they would challenge this from the floor when the agenda comes up for adoption.

"We want a simple up-or-down vote," Strauss said. "The American people are entitled to a simple facing of the issues. Then, we can add members and move on to other new business."

Strauss said he has from 107 to 109 votes behind his candidacy, but he conceded there is some concern over whether these can be translated into votes to fire Mrs. Westwood, who was handpicked for the chairmanship by McGovern last August.

Mrs. Westwood has offered to resign if a middle-ground compromise candidate can be agreed upon but has said she will stay in office if Strauss remains in the race. Strauss then is faced with having to ask the national committee to fire Mrs. Westwood before he can ask it to hire him. Both sides agree that would be more difficult than beating her in a head-on race.

"There are a lot of people who want a change," said one anti-Strauss strategist outside the national committee, "but not enough to vote to vacate the chair."

Life dies!

NEW YORK (AP) — Life magazine will discontinue publication with the issue of Dec. 20, Time, Inc. announced today.

The publisher said the 36-year-old magazine, famous for its pioneering use of news photographs, will be discontinued because of "continuing losses."

The year-end double issue will mark the close of the weekly magazine founded by Henry Luce.

Life was published at "very substantial deficits in 1969 and 1970 and smaller deficits in 1971 and 1972," the publisher said.

"As our projections for 1973 took shape, however, they showed a resumption of heavy losses, and the indications for 1974 were even more unfavorable," he added.

At about 10:45 a.m., grim-faced staff members of the magazine began to gather for a meeting on the eighth floor of the Time-Life Building at Sixth Avenue and 50th Street.

About 250 to 300 staff workers sat in chairs or stood against the walls, waiting for the meeting, which was closed to outsiders, to begin at 11 a.m.

Life lasted more than a year longer than its chief competitor, Look, which ceased publication on Oct. 19, 1971. Look also blamed rising costs, especially postal rates.

Nixon eyes peace talks

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Nixon is firing off instructions to peace negotiator Henry Kissinger while charting the series of moves which would follow a Vietnam cease-fire.

As he continues his stay at this Maryland mountaintop retreat, the chief executive is combining his Vietnam activities with development of his second-term government-reorganization plan and with preparations for the budget he will send to the next Congress.

Nixon virtually completed his new cabinet Thursday when he announced he will nominate California oil company executive Claude S. Brinegar to succeed Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe, who, as expected, was named ambassador to Italy.

The Transportation Department shift left only one Cabinet nomination—attorney general—yet to be disclosed. Officials said Nixon will announce that Richard G. Kleindienst will remain in that slot.

Aides also said Nixon is moving toward a series of sub-Cabinet appointments. One such major appointment reportedly will be a new director for the Central Intelligence Agency.

CIA Director Richard Helms is due to be replaced, officials said, but there are few solid indications on who might succeed him.

Nixon, who arrived at Camp David Monday, scheduled a mid-morning meeting with a quartet of economic advisers—Treasury Secretary George Shultz; Chairman Arthur Burns of the Federal Reserve Board; Chairman Herbert Stein of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and Director Caspar Weinberger of the Office of Management and Budget.

In addition to his second-term personnel planning and economic consultations, Nixon also conferred Thursday with a half-dozen of his top budget advisers, then spent two hours meeting with Adm. Thomas Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Deputy Defense Secretary Kenneth Rush to discuss the Vietnam situation.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

DEAR HELEN:

I never knew how much our family took your column to heart until I cleaned out our daughter's room and found a letter written to you, but never mailed—written when she was 10 years old, and found now that she is 17.

It seems she was upset because she had to go to bed when her younger sister did and thought this unfair, so she wanted YOU to intercede, knowing her mother read your column daily. The clincher: Signature: "Deparate (cq) 5th Grader."

As you can guess, I cried a bit, and smiled. Wish all her problems in life would be that simple.

Second comment: I've never felt so sick as when I read about the young prisoner who was gang-raped—until I read the bloodthirsty reply from the reader who said it served him right for being a draft dodger. If his opinion prevails, America is in real trouble.

Our penal system is wrong. We're getting to know there's a solution (through rehabilitation rather than punishment) but we're so slow. The more people are made aware of these horrors, the more will care. — MRS. A.S. DEAR MRS. S.:

Thank you for your good observations. You'd be surprised how many letters to columnists go unmailed—but still help the writers so very much. For example, I'll bet you and your daughter had a fine chuckle over her long-ago note—and it brought you closer because (am I right?) it started talk on other growing-up memories.

On your second comment: Of the several letters received concerning the gang-raped draft dodger, yours was the only one who took this young man's side. Which isn't a commentary on human nature (really, people aren't universally cruel), but only proof again that vindictive "wages of sin" types are more apt to express their views to newspaper columns—in hopes of getting them printed.

Perhaps this is why prison reform is so long in coming: the "punishment" faction continues very vocal. —H.

This column is dedicated to family living so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Write to Helen Bottel care of this newspaper.

Belt Switch

As belts trimmed down, so were their prices. So you can pick up an assortment of colors to go with your whole wardrobe. Look for detachable buckles, especially the new enamels, that can be switched off with different belts.

Trim Ends

Nothing cures split ends, but trimming them away. Hair should be trimmed regularly in order to avoid a straggly look.

Mrs. Pruden is guest speaker

The Alpha Delta Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, met Dec. 5 in the home of Mrs. Muriel McLarty with Mrs. Pal Whitmarsh and Mrs. Hazel Prichard, co-hostesses. For the program, a special guest, Mrs. Jerri Pruden, spoke on "The Role of Women in Politics."

Mrs. Carolyn Drake and Mrs. Doris Millican were initiated into the chapter in ceremonies conducted by the president, Mrs. Bobbie Brown, assisted by Mrs. Charlean Etter, Miss Mary Roy Moses, Mrs. Wanda Eason, Mrs. Betty Jane Foster, and Mrs. Mildred McPherson. In a setting of red candles and red roses in the holiday motif, spiced tea and a sandwich plate were served to 20.

Don't Forget Lashes

Take time each evening to moisturize your face and neck area to keep a smooth, glowing complexion. And don't forget your eyelashes. When you remove mascara, spend extra time gently rubbing a cream or vaseline over the lashes to keep them looking long and silky.

Piles of Sweaters

With all the sweater interest this year, some women are wearing piles and piles of sweaters instead of coats. Starting down under with the thin turtleneck under a thicker cardigan, the look is completed with a tweedy sweater coat.

Updated Jewel Neck

If you have an old jewel neck dress that definitely looks dated, revitalize it. Add a peter pan white collar and cuffs. Then add a bright scarf tied into a big, floppy bow at the neck for a more popular look.

Sexy Schoolgirl

The little French schoolgirl dress is back in the sexiest, clingy wool jersey. The dress is black jersey with white satin collar and cuffs and is knee length.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Calorie measures are very accurate

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I understand that a calorie is a unit for measuring energy produced by food when oxidized in the body. I do not understand how the amount of calories for each particular food is determined. What is done to figure out the calories in the foods? In referring to different books to check the amounts of calories in bananas, the amounts differed greatly. One book said 88 calories while another said 146 calories. How would I know which book is right and which ones are false?

Dear Reader—There are several complex methods of measuring calories. These are very accurate for the specific amount of type of food tested in the laboratory setting. This information is always applicable to the foods available in the grocery stores. Your example of a banana is a good one. Bananas of different sizes have different numbers of calories. Often listings merely make approximations. What you really need to know is how many calories are there in a given weight of edible food. For example, how many calories are there in 3½ ounces (100 grams) of the edible part of a banana. Calorie values expressed in this way are usually very accurate.

As a general rule one gram of carbohydrate contains four calories, one gram of protein four calories, and one gram of fat nine calories. These are very gross approximations, since a gram of protein from meat contains more calories than a gram of protein from soybeans. The difference is related to how much of the protein is actually absorbed and used during metabolism.

Many common foods contain water so don't assume that one pound of lean meat is one pound of protein. About 70 per cent of its weight is water. Dried apples contain more calories per ounce than fresh apples because they contain less water.

To enable people to know the calories in foods, I have calculated these values based on analysis from the U.S. Department of Agriculture in my new book, "What You Need to Know About Food & Cooking for Health" (Viking Press). The tables of common food values included in this book provide the total calorie values for 3½ ounces or 100 grams of edible food as well as the calories of protein, fat (saturated, monounsaturated, polyunsaturated) and carbohydrates. You need this kind of hard information to know what the contents of any given food item really are.

When food values are expressed in ways other than in calories, the information is often misleading. A common statement is that lean round steak is "very low in fat." It is by weight, since 70 per cent of its weight is water and only 30 per cent of food value. Only 5 per cent of its weight is fat, but over 30 per cent of the total calories are from fat. This is why food values expressed in available calories are a must in planning a satisfactory diet—whether it is for weight loss, preventing heart disease, management of diabetes or any situation where the calorie values of all or any of the food constituents are important.

Everybody's headed for the Cowboy Bowl

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Harding College's spanking new bus holds only 48 passengers, but Coach John Prock has made sure all of his football players will share in the Cowboy Bowl Saturday at Lawton, Okla.

"We're loading them up in everything we can find," Prock said. "Some are going with the fans. An extra school car is going and the team doctor is taking some. We've even got two players in casts that are going."

As you can see, Prock believes a bowl game is a reward for his players.

"We've got 61 boys and 60 of them are making the trip," he said.

The only one staying behind is Lynn Chaffin, who underwent knee surgery Wednesday morning. Prock even tried to persuade the doctors to postpone the surgery so Chaffin could make the trip.

"We tried to get them to put it in a cast, but they said it would be better if they operated," Prock said.

Prock said the players who make the trip will receive jackets and other souvenirs of the bowl game against Langston University.

The team caravan left Searcy Thursday for Lawton. Prock said the players would have to return to Searcy immediately after the game because final examinations begin Monday.

"We thought we'd go out a day early and take a look around," Prock said. "We're not just going to hurry out there. The players are excited about it. There's a reservation out there with 300 head of buffalo and since we're the Bisons and all, we thought we'd let them see what they look like."

Harding, which began football 13 years ago, shared the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference championship with Southern State this year and had a 9-1 season record. It was Harding's first conference title in football.

Prock has not seen Langston, except on film, but he says they are big and have a fondness for the pass.

Langston quarterback Princeton Pindexter, a junior, completed 177 of 324 passes for 2,086 yards and 17 touchdowns while guiding Langston to a 7-4 record.

"They don't do a lot of things, but what they do, they do real well," Prock said.

"I look for them to throw up in the 40s against us," he said.

"In one game, it was pouring down rain and they threw 34 passes." "They've completed more passes than we've thrown all year," Prock said.

He said Langston's basic running play is a dive play with either Freddie Guy or Richard Whitaker carrying the football.

"We feel like we have played teams with stronger running attacks," Prock said. "We've got some stunts and things that can make us a little stronger inside. But, you've got to be a little bit careful and always stay in position to rush the passer. They're going to throw from anywhere on the field under any circumstances."

Prock believes Harding will be able to get outside of Langston with its option series.

Dallas trying for revenge

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Dallas will get revenge.

Pushing our National Football League luck, the pick is for the Cowboys to spill hot-handed Washington 24-20 Saturday and regain a slice of pride.

The NFL has a fistful of showdowns in the next-to-last weekend of the regular season. Atop the list are the Minnesota-Green Bay and Atlanta-San Francisco matchups in the National Conference.

But, blood will boil no hotter than at Texas Stadium where the world champion Cowboys gnaw at a Redskins team that hijacked Dallas' thunder in the NFC East.

Washington, 11-1, has locked up the division crown to break a six-year grip by Dallas and this one simply means more to the 10-gallon hat boys.

For one thing, Dallas (8-3) can assure itself of the NFC "wild card" spot in the playoffs that open Dec. 23.

Back-to-back prediction weeks of 12-and-1 pumped the season percentage to a happy .764 with 78 right, 24 wrong.

Here are the other 12 calls this week:

BROWNS 17, BENGALS 10—Cleveland needs it, if Oakland whips the New York Jets, to tuck away the American Conference "wild card" spot. Cincinnati dropped their first meeting 27-6 and have the Bengals improved that much?

FORTY-NINERS 28, FALCONS 17—Something about that Atlanta bunch in the big ones. They're so close, but haven't yet proven they can get over the clutch hump.

VIKINGS 17, PACKERS 13—Keeping Green Bay for clinching the NFC Central and pulling Minnesota into a possible three-way deadlock that includes Detroit.

STEELERS 38, OILERS 21—Pittsburgh isn't looking back. Anyway, it doesn't matter which way they're looking against Houston.

DOLPHINS 34, GIANTS 21—Thirteenth straight for unbeaten Miami with a chance Bob Griese may get a late chance to test that mended ankle.

RAMS 17, CARDS 7—Los Angeles has new life in the NFC West and they have to keep pace with the 49er-Falcon winner.

LIONS 20, BILLS 14: Detroit has to hang tight in case Minnesota handles the packers and Buffalo doesn't mind.

BEARS 6, EAGLES 0—This one's about as exciting as those nude photos of Jackie Kennedy.

CHARGERS 24, BRONCOS 14—John Hadl hit Denver with three touchdown passes earlier, when the Broncos were stronger. San Diego seems to be better than that 4-7-1 record.

COLTS 21, CHIEFS 14—Baltimore's kiddie corps is doing the job and Kansas City seems to want to get the season over.

SAINTS 27, PATRIOTS 14—New England now rates 25th, just above Houston, in the NFL "power index" and New Orleans can at least put it together on occasion.

RAIDERS 37, JETS 24—Finally knocking the 7-5 Jets out of the playoff picture.

Public disclosure of negotiations brings reactions of anger

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Terminating Commissioner Bowie Kuhn "a rank amateur," Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, has reacted with anger to the public disclosure of the status of negotiations between the athletes and the owners.

Commissioner Kuhn revealed the owners' proposal in an unprecedented step at baseball's winter meetings in Hawaii last week and Thursday, Miller summoned a press conference to express his unhappiness with the action.

"It is an act only the most rank amateur would perform," said Miller, who handled labor negotiations with the steel industry before moving into baseball. "Not only has Mr. Kuhn shown questionable integrity, Miller said, 'he has performed an extremely destructive act in terms of the negotiations.'"

In Hawaii, the commissioner revealed in detail baseball's most recent offer in negotiations for renewal of the expiring general agreement and pension clauses. They included the first concession ever made in the area of the controversial reserve clause that binds a player to his team unless sold, traded or released.

But the concession, which offers free agent status to any veteran player not offered at least $30,000 for his sixth major league season or $40,000 for his ninth year, was rejected as unacceptable by Miller and the Players Association.

"Were it presently in effect," said Miller, "this magnanimous offer would affect five of the 900 players on major league rosters."

Instead, the players have asked for free agent status after seven years, 12 years and 17 years, regardless of salary. Additionally, after five years as a professional, three in the majors, a player would become a free agent if he is earning less than the average big league salary, now figured at about $32,000.

Miller called the Players Association offer, "a modest proposal which goes to the problems of all players, whether they are superstars, regulars or reserves."

The players also are asking for a boost in their minimum salary from the current $13,500 to $15,500 in 1973, $16,500 in 1974 and $17,500 in 1975. The owners had offered $500 boosts per year, reaching $15,000 in 1975.

Dolphins to pit record against Giants Saturday

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — "Those old Monsters of the Midway probably would crown me, but I think the Miami Dolphins conceivably could beat our Chicago Bears of 1940, called the greatest professional team of all time."

The man who said that today was Sid Luckman, who quarterbacked the fabulous Bears of the World War II era to four National Football League titles, the first in an historic 73-0 clobbering of the Washington Redskins in 1940.

The Dolphins Sunday take a 12-0 record against the New York Giants with a chance to match the NFL's season record of 13 victories set by the 1934 Bears and matched by three later clubs. The Dolphins also could tie the "streak" record of 13 set by the 1934 Bears.

Bear owner George Halas always has regarded the 1934 Bears, powered by Beattie Feathers and Bronco Nagurski, and the Luckman-led powerhouses of 1940-41-42 as in a class by themselves.

Luckman, eased out of the Bear coaching picture several years ago and now a plastics firm executive, thinks the Dolphins are great, but their coach, Don Shula, even greater.

In Luckman's book, they broke the mold for a peerless coach after now-retired Halas, but the five-time, all-NFL quarterback asserted: "When I look at Shula, he reminds me of Halas when I was playing."

"Shula has the talent of knowing what he wants, getting it, and maintaining a great team esprit de corps."

"Miami is a magnificently balanced team, with the game's three finest running backs, tremendous receivers and some workers playing far above their potential, thanks to Shula, who did the same thing at Baltimore."

Did Luckman actually believe the current Dolphins could whip the Bears who made the T Formation the source of pro football in the early 1940s?

"Well, it's like saying who would win between Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis," said Luckman. "It would be a meeting of two super teams, but because of size and speed, I'd have to go for the Dolphins. And that's a brah thing for me to say with Bulldog Turner, Joe Stydahar, George Musso, George McAfee, Ken Kavanaugh, Bill Osmanski among others of those great 1940 Bears still alive and kicking."

Luckman stressed, however, that "we had a 28-man squad and the regulars played both ways 60 minutes."

"It might be a horse of a different color if the Dolphins had to match us with their best 28 guys and they had to play both offense and defense."

"But the modern football players have so much more going for them, skilled coaching from the kid level, bigger bodies and greater speed. I look and shudder when I see those 270-280-pound men moving with the speed and agility they do today."

McAshen's playing days over

ATLANTA (AP) — Quarterback Eddie McAshen's playing days at Georgia Tech, where he shattered 17 school passing records, are over.

Although Tech still has a Dec. 18 contest at the Liberty Bowl in Memphis, Tenn., McAshen will not be making the trip.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern State, State College of Arkansas and Ouachita have survived this week of Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball action as the only undefeated teams in league competition.

SSC and SCA sport 3-0 records and Ouachita a 2-0 slate following victories Thursday night.

'Pistol Pete' guy with the action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"He's the guy who creates the action," says Atlanta Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons. And Pete Maravich surely created some action for the Hawks against the Chicago Bulls.

Maravich scored eight straight points to tie the Bulls at 86-86 and send the National Basketball Association game into overtime Thursday night. He then scored five of the Hawks' eight extra-period points as they won 94-88.

Maravich finished with 39 points. Bob Love topped Chicago with 28.

In the only other NBA game, Neal Walk scored 27 points and Charlie Scot 25 as Phoenix snapped a three-game losing streak by scoring a 117-102 victory at Pittsburgh over the Philadelphia 76ers, who were led by Kevin Loughery with 21. Virginia edged Indiana 112-109 and Denver walloped San Diego 108-89 in the only American Basketball Association action.

"It just happened that way," said Julius Erving after a scored a club record 24 points in the third period as Virginia outscored Indiana 36-31 and built a 109-98 lead.

Erving also collected 17 other points, three of them on an off balance field goal that gave the Squires a 120-124 lead with 1:58 left in the game. Erving also grabbed 19 rebounds. George McGinnis led Indiana with 31 points.

Denver beat back a third-quarter rally by San Diego for its victory. Ralph Simpson topped Denver with 23 points. Chuck Williams led San Diego with 17.

Bowl games headline weekend

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
With the big boys waiting in the wings for their year-end performances, five Bowl games involving college division powers headline Saturday's college football program.

There's the Grantland Rice Bowl at Baton Rouge, La., the Pioneer Bowl at Wichita Falls, Tex., the Boardwalk Bowl at Atlantic City, N.J., the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif., and the NAIA championship playoff at Commerce, Tex.

There'll be a game in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., where the only major game of the day is scheduled. Florida, 5-4-1, entertains the Atlantic Coast Conference champion North Carolina Tar Heels, 9-1, in the regular season windup for both clubs.

Running back Nat Moore of Florida needs only 37 yards to set a season rushing record for the Gators and his teammates have vowed to get him running room.

Allen picks up another title

BOSTON (AP) — Dick Allen of the Chicago White Sox added the 1972 American League slugging championship to his home run and runs batted in titles today in official records announced by League President Joe Cronin.

Allen, who tied for third in the batting race with a .308 average, compiled a slugging mark of .603 on 305 total bases in 506 trips to the plate.

Allen is the first player to lead the league in homers, RBI and slugging since 1967, when Boston's Carl Yastrzemski won the Triple Crown and had a slugging percentage of .622.

The White Sox' first baseman had 37 homers, 28 doubles and five triples. He led the league with 99 walks, five more than runnerup Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota.

Chicago catcher Ed Herrmann received the most intentional walks, 19. Oakland's Sal Bando received 17 and Allen 16.

Mike Epstein, recently traded by Oakland to Texas, was hit by 11 pitches, leading the league for the second year in a row. Minnesota's Bobby Darwin was the strikeout leader with 145, but finished high among sluggers with .442 on 22 homers, 20 doubles and two triples.

THOUGHTFUL SANTA. Who wouldn't love a Santa who brings a present you can use every morning all year long such as this heated shave cream dispenser. It uses more than 30 leading brands of shave cream and dispenses heated moist cream in less than a minute. From General Electric, it's almost like having your own personal barber.

BARBS

By PHIL PASTORET

Chet Wozney is the only man in town who can still find two-for-a-nickel cigars. So says the guy who sits opposite him in the office.

No, Gwendolyn, no one is going to be arrested if there's a lot of "snow" around for Christmas.

There are only "X" shopping days till Christmas, and "X" marks the spot where you sign for the goodies.

Most evieed man in town: The fellow who had the good sense to leave his outdoor yule lights in place since last Christmas. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

STRIVE FOR PEACE

"Try to be at peace with all men" (Hebrews 12:14).
We are forever talking of peace, but we continue to quarrel. We think we must fight. We demonstrate with hate and destruction as our motivating force. How shall I change it? What is my next step? How do I become a real peace maker? The Scriptures clearly give the message. "Thou shalt love thy brother." Then, if I am serious, I must answer. I must put love in place of hate. I must frankly face the fact that I actually hate or despise another man who also is a son of God. That is my sin. Immediately I must look into his life and discover some good . . . I must love him.

Do not hate a Democrat, or Republican, or a Black man, or a White man, or a Jew, Catholic, or Protestant.
Other people love those guys, why can't I?
I too must discover some good which I don't know about, if I am to set myself free of hate.
Then, I must seriously set out to live
Hebrews 12:14.

THE CHURCHES AND SYNAGOGUES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS AND RABBIS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . . TO ATTEND CHURCH OR SYNAGOGUE.

WHO NEEDS SPORT COATS? Every man on your Christmas list. Choose nifty corduroy or one of our new knits that stretch when he does.
